GAME PREVIEW:

BC will play its first-ever game at Pooler Stadium this week. Having played three straight games on the road, this will be the first game for BC in Chatham County since Sept. 23. With last week's win over Bacon Co., the Cadets clinched a first-round home playoff game. BC started hot and fast as Nick Iannone threw first-quarter touchdown passes to John Wesley Kennedy and Travis Blackshear, while Tyleek Collins and Kennedy ran for scores in the opening frame. Iannone finished with three TD passes in just a half of work. Kennedy scored a total of four times, one coming on a punt return. On the night, BC scored nine TDs to go with a safety. Jake Karesh converted all seven of the PATs he attempted. The defense stifled the Red Raiders most of the night, not allowing a score until late in the fourth quarter. With a victory against Metter, BC will win its second consecutive region championship and third since Danny Britt arrived at Benedictine.

Metter travels to take on BC for a second straight season after losing to the Cadets in the first round of the playoffs last season. After two seasons in Region 3, the Tigers have rejoined Region 2 under second-year head coach Chris Johnson. Metter must beat BC to keep its playoff hopes alive after making the postseason in two of the past three years. Offensively, the Tigers work primarily from the shotgun and like to maintain a balance with the run and pass. Shamel Johnson, an explosive back with big-play potential, gets the ball in a variety of ways. Metter will use a rotation, at times, at the QB position. Nathaniel Scott is dangerous on the perimeter. Metter's defense bases out of a 3-4 but will show a 4-4, and is led by linebacker Keanu Holloway, an athlete who rolls up to the end position when needed. He and Tanner Richie form a strong linebacking corps.
